Paula Josa-Jones is an artist, choreographer, and teacher who has dedicated her life to integrating the arts of dance and horseback riding. She has been a pioneer in the field of somatic movement therapy, and her work has been recognized worldwide.

“A BEAUTIFUL, spiritual and touching look at our great love and need for animals. Brilliant and heartfelt.”

—JUN KATZ, New York Times Bestselling Author, Former Executive Producer of CBS Morning News

“WHAT AN ENGAGING, poetic, and insightful book! ‘Our Horses, Ourselves’ is a deeply moving journey into the landscape of our authentic self, reflected through the great love, respect, and understanding Josa-Jones has for horses as companions and creators of harmony through movement.”

—WILLIAM C. MACDONALD, Director, Tellington Method Research Foundation

“PAULA JOSA-JONES SHARES a unique perspective on how we can create a more intimate relationship with our horses and ourselves, and it is a joy to see how awareness of the deeper connections between horses and humans can blossom. Her approach is truly that of a Compassionate Equestrian.”

—ALEEN B. SCHUYLER, DOM, MPH, PhD (in press), Author of The Compassionate Veterinarian, Equine Psychotherapy, and Animal Assisted Interpersonal Therapy

“PAST, PRESENT, AND FUTURE: BEtween 60 And 80 Percent of Human Communication is Nonverbal. When we are in our horse’s presence, our ability to understand and communicate with him is critical to forming a true partnership with him. Our Horses, Ourselves is a poetic, moving portrait of a deep relationship between human and horse.”

—KATHY STERLING, Past President of the American Society of Therapeutic Riding (ASTR)

“A BEAUTIFUL, spiritual and touching look at our great love and need for animals. Brilliant and heartfelt.”

—JUN KATZ, New York Times Bestselling Author, Former Executive Producer of CBS Morning News

“WHAT AN ENGAGING, poetic, and insightful book! ‘Our Horses, Ourselves’ is a deeply moving journey into the landscape of our authentic self, reflected through the great love, respect, and understanding Josa-Jones has for horses as companions and creators of harmony through movement.”

—WILLIAM C. MACDONALD, Director, Tellington Method Research Foundation

“PAULA JOSA-JONES SHARES a unique perspective on how we can create a more intimate relationship with our horses and ourselves, and it is a joy to see how awareness of the deeper connections between horses and humans can blossom. Her approach is truly that of a Compassionate Equestrian.”

—ALEEN B. SCHUYLER, DOM, MPH, PhD (in press), Author of The Compassionate Veterinarian, Equine Psychotherapy, and Animal Assisted Interpersonal Therapy

“PAST, PRESENT, AND FUTURE: BEtween 60 And 80 Percent of Human Communication is Nonverbal. When we are in our horse’s presence, our ability to understand and communicate with him is critical to forming a true partnership with him. Our Horses, Ourselves is a poetic, moving portrait of a deep relationship between human and horse.”

—KATHY STERLING, Past President of the American Society of Therapeutic Riding (ASTR)